Mr. James Earl P.E, MSPM-President and senior project manager of JET Y Inc., James has 25 years of multi-agency federal construction, engineering, and project management experience. James is a licensed professional engineer, holds a Master's Degree in Project Management, and is a licensed general contractor in multiple states.

Primary JET Y Capabilities

Construction-Bottom line, JET Y knows what it takes to complete complex federal requirements successfully! Our staff have experience in design-bid-build, design-build, and fast-track projects. As your general contractor, we can assemble a winning team based on your unique requirements. We connect assets, people and customers. Turnkey support available, including equipment, furnishings, and commissioning to government specifications.

Engineering- A multidisciplinary approach, customer emphasis, and a capable network of consulting engineers, architects, and specialists provide our clients engineering and technical services with a focus on safety, sustainability and innovation. Our staff and associates offer extensive proven and practical experience.

Planning- Great planning leads to great results. Let JET Y help you with this critical step, either as a standalone service or as part of a project. JET Y can provide planning services including but not limited to: master planning, environmental, feasibility, systems capacity, and site investigation.

Project Management-Agile, focused, flexible. Our team represents decades of knowledge and know-how as federal & facility professionals. We understand the day-to-day challenges of projects and program requirements required to build and maintain government facilities. Project management services include construction management & inspection, lessor-GC-government space acquisition consultation services, facility operations, and temporary contract staffing to meet your requirements.

Turnkey Equipment Provider-JET Y is ready to provide solutions to your complex equipment and furniture needs under one contract, including purchasing, installation, commissioning, testing, follow on maintenance, and warranty support. From client concept to turnkey, all under one contract action at competitive pricing.

The above capabilities are by no means a comprehensive list of products or services JET Y can provide. Please call or email with any needs, we can very likely help you or am more than happy to refer you to another qualified small business that can. Our job is to meet government requirements with innovative and cost-effective solutions. No job too small, no site too remote, no project too challenging. Remember,

With JET Y, You're Ready.
